Technical Management of Thomson Discovery

Thomson Cruises entrust Columbia Cruise Services (CCS) with their newest addition to the fleet “THOMSON DISCOVERY”

Hamburg, Germany, (June 22, 2015) - On Thursday the 11th of June, Captain Adrian Hibbert, Director of Operations of Thomson Cruises, announced that CCS is confirmed as technical manager for “THOMSON DISCOVERY” as from spring 2016. After a re-branding period Thomson Cruises will take over the vessel in April 2016, currently sailing as “Splendour of the Seas” for Royal Caribbean International.

The collaboration between Columbia/CCS and Thomson Cruises started back in 2004 with the appointment for the technical management for “Thomson Celebration”. “Island Escape” and “Thomson Dream” followed in 2009 and 2010.

“We are very happy to add yet another vessel to our Thomson fleet”, stated Olaf Groeger, Director of CCS. “To be trusted with Thomson’s newest and most modern addition is a great honor and underlines the trust we have gained by successfully managing Thomson vessels over the years.”

Columbia enhanced its tailor-made service structures within the Cruise industry by founding CCS in 2014. Looking back on more than 30 years of experience in the cruise business it was the right time to set up a specialized cruise service. CCS started operating out of Hamburg, Germany, in January 2015 dedicated exclusively to passenger, expedition cruise vessels and luxury yacht markets. CCS offers a broad scope of customized cruise and hotel services.
